Profile

Linda Chalot is a partner with Chalot Hatten & Koupal, Denver, Colorado, where she focuses on cases arising from medical malpractice, defective products, toxic exposures, recreational accidents and vehicular accidents. Since 1991, Ms. Chalot has successfully applied her engineering knowledge, gained from both training and working in industry for three years as a chemical engineer, to matters where an understanding of the technical aspects of the accident are crucial to the adequate representation of the client. Ms. Chalot also oversees the use of state-of-the-art technology by the firm to best serve our clients, including maintaining the firm's several websites and blogs which provide free legal information for personal injury victims.
